

HECER-WIDER SEMINAR

Women's status and children's food security in Pakistan

Dr. Basudeb Guha-Khasnobis , UNU-WIDER

Does Microcredit Increase Domestic Violence? Evidence from Rural Bangladesh

Mr. Khondker Aktaruzzaman, HECER

Thursday 3 April 2008 at 15:00-16:00

Economicum, Arkadiankatu 7, 00014 Helsinki
seminar room 1 (1st floor)

World Institute for Development Economics Research of the United Nations University (UNU-WIDER) undertakes applied research and policy analysis on global development and poverty issues. WIDER is the first research and training centre of the United Nations University (UNU), established in Helsinki, Finland in 1984. www.wider.unu.edu

Helsinki Center of Economic Research (HECER) Helsinki Center of Economic Research (HECER) is a joint initiative of the University of Helsinki, the Helsinki School of Economics and the Swedish School of Economics. HECER is an independent research institute whose main purpose is to promote high-quality economic research, to develop and co-ordinate doctoral level economic education and to promote co-operation in economics among the universities in the Helsinki area. HECER was launched in 2004. www.hecer.fi

Admission is free.