VULNERABILITY OF WOMEN MIGRANT WORKERS... RECRUITMENT PHASE

- Low level of education/training, low level of literacy
- Family background such as different class
- Economically lower income
- Little work experiences
- Economically poor
- Experienced physical or psychological abused, gender based violence, sexual discrimination; –female encounter?
- Low level of financial literacy such as do not have bank account, knowledge about money transfer, saving, investment
- Little awareness of recruitment procedure
- Access to justice
- Cultural and engendered prejudices
- No or little experiences to go abroad
- Little knowledge about human rights
- Low level of trust/understanding toward governments. Many women come from villages where they do not have interactions of central government. Fear of police? Are there opportunities to communicate abuses during the recruitment process? Are there any venues to communicate? Do they inform female recruiters about non-government channels to communicate abuse?
- No work at their home countries and there is an urgent need to earn money for their families, who either remain at home.

POLICY FRAMEWORK: MIGRATION GOVERNANCE

---

INTERNATIONAL

- International Conventions
- Sustainable Development Goals
- Global Compact on Migration

REGIONAL/NATIONAL

- Regional Consultative Processes (Colombo Process and Abu Dhabi Dialogue initiatives)
- Regional Organizations (SAARC)
- Labor Migration Policy
- National Development Goals
